Statement from Michigan Community Action about the Social Justice Roots of Our Movement and Anti-Racism

(Okemos, MI, June 3, 2020) The Community Action movement was formed in the crucible of the Civil Rights era of the 1960s to fight poverty at the local level. Our movement is part of the legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., President Lyndon B. Johnson, and countless community activists who envisioned an empowered, community-centered way to fight poverty and cultivate economic opportunity. Read full statement.

President Trump signs bill easing Paycheck Protection Program requirements

President Donald Trump has signed into law a bill that gives employers more flexibility when using Paycheck Protection Program (PPP) funds and applying for loan forgiveness.

Lawmakers from both sides of the aisle supported making changes to the PPP to address complaints from employers that the existing rules were unfeasible. U.S. House of Representatives passed the bipartisan Paycheck Protection Program Flexibility Act (PPPPFA) in a 417-1 vote on May 28, and the Senate passed the bill by unanimous consent on June 3. Taking Action on Housing and Mortgage Lending Discrimination

Black Americans remain second-class citizens in access to housing finance. Ever wonder why many live in neighborhoods that are hyper-segregated by race and class? One major culprit is racial discrimination in mortgage lending, causing a racial wealth gap. Michigan's junior US Senator, Gary Peters, is on Senate Finance Committee and could be an influential advocate to implement better laws preventing mortgage and credit discrimination. COVID-19

Social Security fraud boosted by COVID-19 fears

Know that COVID-19 gives fraudsters a new hook. Social Security fraud was already a problem when the global COVID-19 pandemic hit the United States early this spring.

But now fraudsters have added brand-new ploys involving the public health crisis to exploit unsuspecting victims.

Find out what they are doing and how you can help educate those you serve here.

Remote Work Resources

Trello: How to embrace remote work

If you're looking for one singular resource that can get your team excited about working remotely, then this PDF from Trello should be required reading. It offers tried-and-true strategies from Evernote, Buffer, Zapier, Automattic and other fully distributed companies. Found on OpenViewPartners.com

We're here for you: We've made a number of changes at MCA so that we can continue to serve you and the network, including closing the physical MCA office and making arrangements for MCA staff to work remotely since March 16, 2020. All direct phone lines, as well as the general line have been forwarded to mobile phones and staff are all accessible by email as well.

Thank you. Be well and stay safe, everyone.
