River Rouge, Redford, Highland Park residents earn Volunteer Awards

Eighty-seven year old Reletha Moch of River Rouge, Monica King of Redford, and Carlton Clyburn of Highland Park were recognized for making positive changes in their communities at the Michigan Community Action Awards event at the Capitol in Lansing April 30.

Moch has been a volunteer for the Wayne Metro CAA for more than 20 years and also works with a number of other River Rouge service organizations. Clyburn volunteers in the Male Readers for Leaders program and formed My Brother's Keeper to help young males with opportunities to succeed. King has worked with homeless youth in Wayne Metro's KEY (Keeping an Eye on Youth) Program for more than six years, helping foster care kids and donating hats, mittens and shoes.

Michigan Community Action (MCA) awards are given annually to clients who overcame economic and social challenges, and volunteers who go above and beyond to improve a community's welfare.

Founded in 1975, Michigan Community Action serves its 29 member agencies throughout Michigan by strengthening their capacity to alleviate the causes and circumstances of poverty in all 83 counties.
